McArthur to Win Gleichen Mr. Bouillon in Fighting Mood NOT HIRED TO WASH DIRTY LINEN OF THE PAST; BUT READY TO DO SO

Commission Bouillon is Stirred Up Over the Underhand Agitation Being Started Against Him—Is Quite Prepared to Fight, If Necessary, But Does Not Want to be Drawn into Civic Politics.

"I am not looking for trouble, but I am not avoiding it, and if anyone wants to fight he will find me ready." By the above statement made to a Capital reporter this morning by Commissioner Bouillon, the utilities commissioner showed that he is growing tired of the continual agitation, and is prepared to fight those who are opposed to him and who desire to see him ousted from the office of utilities commissioner.

"I was not hired to wash the dirty linen of the past," said Mr. Bouillon, "but if petty politicians are to keep the city in a state of perpetual agitation, and make things uncomfortable for the commissioners, I will wash some of the dirty linen and an analysis of the dirt might be surprising. My ship is in fine condition, the decks cleared for action, and I am going to sail it through the storm."

WOULD NOT PERMIT PRIEST TO SAY MASS

Chipman Man Objected to Service As He Owned the Communion Set.

TROUBLE OVER A CHURCH

Undecided Whether It Was Russian Orthodox or Greek Catholic—A Court Case.

Tom Metnick appeared for trial this morning at the R.N.W.M.P. barracks, before Inspector Worsley, for disturbing public worship at Chipman on Sunday, September 18th. Mr. Cormack was acting for the defense.

The first witness, Malynik, said that "Tom came into the church before the service, threw his hat on a little table in the corner, and went up to speak to the priest. They talked quietly for a while and then Tom began to talk loudly, and the priest therefore drew him into a little room on the side. The defendant then told the people that he would not allow them to have a service there, whereupon the priest asked the congregation to be witnesses to that statement. They all went out and the service was held in a private house."

Examined by Mr. Cormack, the witness allowed that the communion set used in the church belonged to the defendant. He also allowed that there had been a difference between the members as to whether the church was Russian orthodox or Greek Catholic, and that there were quite a number of people that would not consent to a Russian orthodox priest saying mass.

"How many were there that would not consent?" asked Mr. Cormack. "About seventeen."

"And how many were for the priest?"

"Five or six."

"The priest, said the witness, had not been there since June because he was too busy, not because he would not come."

"Did the defendant lay his hands on the priest?"

"No."

"Or call anyone any bad names, or shout or take off his coat and want to fight?"

"No."

Further Marjish, the priest, said that "Tom went to him and told him not to take the communion set, and said that he owned it. He then began to speak loudly. He took him into a little room and asked him not to make any disturbance in the church. They talked or about fifteen minutes, until it was time to begin the service, when he said that he would allow him to hold the service. He said the whole congregation was against it."

The case was adjourned until this afternoon.

In which some of these frail political crafts are going to be wrecked for they won't be able to weather it. I was through one of the most desperate political fights in one of the foremost American cities. I did not want to mix up in politics, but I was forced into the open and I can tell you that I fought like the very dickens in defence of the public interest against the transgressions of banded monopoly.

"It just amounts to this: If the proprietor of a drug store is continually fighting with his clerks, he can't expect good results from their labors, but if he leaves them alone his business will be well looked after and he won't lose anything. That is just the position the commissioners are in. If they leave us alone the city's business will be well looked after."

IS INVESTIGATING THE POSSIBILITIES

F. W. Gardner, Representative of "Canada," Making an Extended Tour of the West.

ATTRACT ENGLISH MONEY

This Will Be Done When Possibilities of Investment in Canada Are Set Forth.

Mr. F. W. Gardner, resident representative and financial correspondent of "Canada," the illustrated British weekly, accompanied by Mrs. Gardner, is touring the country at large, and on behalf of his journal to study the investment openings along all lines, the possibilities for industries and for the British tradesmen.

When interviewed by The Capital, Mr. Gardner stated that the investment opportunities are not being covered in any definite form by the British papers, and for that reason he had been sent to Canada to make a thorough investigation of conditions and to write articles setting forth possibilities in detail.

"We have received many enquiries as to investment possibilities in Canada," said Mr. Gardner, "and to satisfy them a thorough study of conditions is necessary. The same applies to the avenues of possibilities for the British tradesmen. There are many opportunities for them out here, but they are not made acquainted with them in any satisfactory form and it is our intention to explain them fully. At the same time Mrs. Gardner will look into the domestic service problem and will exploit the possibilities for British women with capital in millinery establishments and tea shops."

Mr. Gardner stated that he considered there were many possibilities for investment for British capital in Edmonton.

The investment situation here is not in any homed state," he said. "There are many chances for safe investment while the investor can get safe security and double the yield that he can in Great Britain."

312,837 LAST MONTH

Paving Operations Have Had A Bad Effect on Street Railway Traffic.

The receipts of the Edmonton street railway for the month of September were $13,175.20. The total number of passengers carried was 312,837. This is a small decrease from the corresponding month last year, which was $14,500. Bishwanger attributes to the paving operations which have had a detrimental effect on the street railway traffic.

SIFTON CONFIDENT.

Premier Sifton left this morning for Calgary to be present in that city during the contest in Gleichen, which is taking place today. The premier is confident that the government candidate, Mr. McArthur, will be returned over the independent candidate, E. H. Riley.

TRIED TO BLOW UP OTIS RESIDENCE

Attempt Made to Wreck Home of Publisher of the Los Angeles "Times."

AN INFERNAL MACHINE

Was Found in Suit Case Near a Window—Narrow Escape of Police.

Los Angeles, Calif., Oct. 2.—An attempt to destroy the residence of General Otis, publisher of the Los Angeles Times, by means of an infernal machine, was made yesterday afternoon.

For twenty years, following a quarrel with the Typographical Union, which resulted in making the Times a non-union paper, General Otis has fought unionism with every resource at his command. He has been ably seconded by the manufacturers association, whose secretary was the object of the frustrated dynamiting yesterday.

The Otis house is known as the "Bivouac" and is a small, fashionable section of the city. After the finding of the infernal machine at the Zechandlar residence, Detective Rice was sent to the "Bivouac" to make a search of the premises.

With Charles Foston, the gardener, he found a suit case hidden under a bunch of vines, under a bay window on the side fronting west lake park. Detective Rice telephoned Chief of Police Galloway, who went immediately to General Otis's house. Chief of Police Galloway wanted to take it to the police station without opening it, but Otis insisted upon opening it, and finally stuck a knife in the side of the receptacle. A buzz of mechanism was heard inside and smoke began coming out around the edges of the aperture. Confident that the suit case contained a bomb, Chief Galloway ordered the infernal machine rushed over to the park where its explosion could do but comparatively little damage.

The rumors of the attempted outrages set the populace of Los Angeles in a state of wild bordering on panic. Hundreds of policemen and detectives were busy in every direction running down clues and endeavoring to locate the alleged perpetrators of the crime. But two arrests have been made, and these were only on suspicion.

Ald. Armstrong is Not Opposing Mr. Bouillon

"I have not been influenced by any ratpayers or delegation of ratpayers of Nanayso Avenue to oppose Mr. Bouillon, over the delay in the pavement of that avenue, nor have any of the ratpayers sought to influence me, although four or five months ago several complained to me about it."

A Capital reporter called on Ald. Armstrong yesterday, and obtained from him, as above, his denial of the story published in the Capital on Saturday, to the effect that the reason he was opposed to Commissioner Bouillon was due to the fact that influence had been brought to bear on him by ratpayers of Nanayso Avenue, who were annoyed at the delay in the completion of the paving of that avenue.

72 KILLED IN EXPLOSION IN MEXICAN COAL MINE

Monterrey, Oct. 3.—A special from "Las Esperanzas, Coahuila, says: "Friday night a tremendous explosion of coal occurred in No. 2 mine at Hala belonging to the Conchita Coal Company. The force of the explosion blew down all of the timbers in the slope from the sixth lift to the surface. It blew out the mouth of the stop, lifting twenty feet of the surface and closing the mine. The fan house was also blown down, but the fan and engine were not injured."

"Entrance was made to the mine through the second opening, but all the ventilating currents and air supply being destroyed, it was impossible to penetrate into the mine far enough to reach any of the miners. The first rescue party were over- come and a second party had to go in and relieve them. They were over- come by the after-damp, but were brought to the surface and revived in a few hours. The work of restoring the air currents is proceeding as rapidly as possible, with all the men it is safe to work with. Two bodies have so far been recovered and there are about seventy more men in the mine. There is no possibility of them being recovered alive as it will be forty-eight hours more before all the bodies can be reached."

The rescue helmets of which the company has a full supply, could not be used as they were so heavy and the space left to crawl through so small that the men could not get through with them. On this mine was the largest producer of the Conchita Coal Company and has been shipping shipping about 18,000 tons of coal per month for some years.

The cause of the explosion has not yet been accurately determined, but the indications are that it was caused by miners smuggling in some common dynamite instead of using the safety powder furnished by the company.

Monterrey, Mex., Oct. 3.—Late news of the coal mine at Palu where the explosion occurred indicates that the loss of life will probably be 72 miners, mostly Mexicans and Japanese. Only two bodies have thus far been recovered.

LABORERS FOR G.T.P. CAMPS WIN AGAINST CONTRACTORS

"I have come to the conclusion that no case has been made for the prosecution and that the men were given sufficient instructions on their arrival at Edson as to where their work was, or when they would be sent, or how. I also consider they were entitled to money and pay from the time they were engaged at Winnipeg. I think that the arrangements at Edson were not as good as they might be, and for these various reasons I have decided to dismiss the case with costs to be paid by the prosecution."

Such was the decision given by Inspector Worsley in the case of Foley, Welch and Stewart vs. ten laborers who left their work at Edson. The inspector was very decided in that the men had not been treated properly and that no arrangements had been made for their support.

McARTHUR LOOKS LIKE BEST BET IN GLEICHEN ELECTION TODAY

How the Situation Stands in the Byelections in the South—Fight in Gleichen is a Hot One and Result is Expected to be Close—McLeod for Maunsell.

(Special to the Capital.)

Calgary, Oct. 3.—"I have nothing to say, further than that I am content to abide by the verdict of the electors of Gleichen."

This is the last word from Mr. C. H. Riley, the independent candidate in the Gleichen elections today, that was said in the confident tones that show that Mr. Riley is not expecting to be defeated.

Mr. A. J. McArthur, the Liberal candidate, is confident that he will be elected by a large majority.

"After a careful study of the feelings of the electors in the different parts of the riding I am confident they will appreciate the peace and progress that my election will assist in some measure in making more certain in the midst of Alberta," he says.

And even as the candidates were giving out these statements the polling booths were open and the voting was going on. In the Riverside, Crescent Heights and Hillhurst polling station the reports that came to the different headquarters were that voting was off- set on a briskly.

At the Liberal headquarters, the McArthur campaign claim that they know from a personal canvass that the Riverside and Crescent Heights polls will support Mr. McArthur by a big majority and they even go so far as to hope to break even in Hillhurst, the acknowledged stronghold of Mr. Riley.

"They will never get a majority or get any where near breaking even in Hillhurst, for there is not a man there who wouldn't get out and fight for a Riley all the time," is the statement given out regarding this matter at the committee rooms of Mr. Riley, and the Riley supporters come back even stronger with the statement that they will positively break even, and perhaps get a little majority in Crescent Heights, the home poll of Mr. McArthur, but this is only created as a joke by the McArthur supporters.

"Telephone messages from Gleichen and advices from Bassano and Strathmore say that the voting is going on briskly, but that so far it is impossible to say just how the polls are going. In Langdon it is said that a bitter fight is being waged, the supporters of both candidates working hard in the interests of their leaders."

In Brooks it is thought that there will be about an even break, although a majority is claimed by both candidates in this part of the constituency. Langdon will be another even break, with perhaps a small majority for Mr. Riley. Sheppard will also give him a small majority most of the Conservatives there having already expressed the intention of voting for him.

Strathmore is another poll that is liable to go either way, with just a shade in favor of Mr. Riley, but the votes in Bassano and Gleichen, it is polled according to the way the McArthur supporters and organizers say they will be polled, will more than offset these little majorities for Mr. Riley.

Sunshine and Westmont, two more of the city polls are thought to be sure Riley majorities, but with so small, and together with any majority Mr. Riley may get in Hillhurst, will be more than offset by Crescent Heights and Riverside, both of which they say are strong McArthur polls and will poll a large number of votes between them.

As a matter of fact they look for more votes to be polled for Mr. Arthur in these two polls than all the votes polled in the other three city polls combined.

ANOTHER LABORER WANTS HIS MONEY

Man Employed to Work in G.T.P. Construction Camp Not Paid Yet.

WALKED IN FROM TOP OF FIELD

Has Been In Town for About Two Weeks and is Now Penniless.

With four days' pay to his credit on the books of the Grand Trunk Pacific, A. Brechinski has been walking the streets of Edmonton for two weeks waiting for his pay. Finally he is starving condition after having no food for the past three days, he applied to the Immigration hall this morning. When questioned by a Capital reporter this morning through an interpreter, he told the following story:

"Some three weeks ago he hired with the Grand Trunk construction camps and went out to Toluid. Here he was unable to do the work required of him, and after receiving his identification card, was forced to walk to Edmonton. This was bad enough, but he was told on application at the Grand Trunk Pacific offices that they had no money for him, that he would have to wait till the money came from Winnipeg (presumably the next pay car). So here he was stranded with only a small amount in his pocket.

He did not understand altogether, but walked around for some time wondering what to do. Finally he was driven to do something and decided to go to the immigration authorities for help in the matter. The pay of course came in a week ago, but there was no way for him to get that out and he took it that he was not going to get his money at all.

This is not an unusual case as the interpreter at the hall assured the Capital. As a matter of fact there was another similar case which required to be taken up today.

CAN. WESTINGHOUSE NOT TO OPEN BRANCH

Representative of Company Does Not Think Business Here Would Warrant It.

SURPRISED AT GROWTH

Wishes He Had Kept Land He Bought—Now Worth Six Times Price He Paid.

"Although the business of this city has grown marvelously since I was here four years ago I do not think that there is enough to warrant our establishing offices here," said Mr. Paul J. Myler, vice president of the Canadian Westinghouse Company, limited, to a Capital reporter this morning in answer to a question.

Mr. Myler has with him, Mr. Bostick, who is in charge of the sales department, Mr. Duff, the western manager, and Mr. Davies, the Calgary representative.

"You seem to be having a meeting of officials," said the reporter. "Have you no project in view for Edmonton?"

"Not at present."

"May we say that you will establish offices here as soon as the business grows enough?"

"Well," said Mr. Myler, "I wouldn't say that; but you may say that it is always the policy of the Westinghouse Company to keep up with the business, and acquire property and put offices, when the business is sufficient to warrant it."

Mr. Myler is on his tour of the west, which he takes every few years. "I was prepared for a big change in Edmonton since I was here four years ago, but not for the change that has taken place. There were only mud streets then."

He bought some property in the town when he was here in 1905 for $10,000 and sold it the next year for $20,000. Now," said Mr. Myler, "they tell me that its worth $60,000."

Calgary Y.M.C.A. Defeated Eskimos
---Final Score---20-8. Ragged Game

Game Was Much More Even Than Score Would Denote. Several Minor Injuries—Attendance Was Small

Though beaten on Saturday afternoon by 20 to 8, the Eskimos clearly showed that the Calgary Y.M.C.A. was not that much superior to them. Luck broke against the locals in every instance. An Edmonton mistake on the back division was quickly directed into a Calgary score while the visitors seemed to make mistakes and get away with them. The game, which was merely of an exhibition nature, will do both teams a world of good, and show them what to expect when the series for the Beldinger cup and the championship of Alberta commences. The play on Saturday will enable Coach Beldinger to get a good line on his men, and to determine those who can play brilliantly in a game, as well as in practice.

The play bordered on the ragged at times, and miffing was very prevalent. The good football cannot be expected from teams that have few opportunities to practise. In three weeks' time, spectators will note a big difference in the form of both teams. At that, there were many periods of good play on Saturday, particularly when the Eskimos had the ball on their 1st line, before the end of the first half, and managed by brilliant plays of Wilson and Gibson to work the pigskin out 30 yards.

McCarthy, at full-back, played a splendid game for the Eskimos, catching and returning punts with great skill. He looks like a find and should do well on the half line. Wilson at centre half, played a brilliant but erratic game. He had the most work to do on the local team, and gained a lot of ground by his runs in an open field, but was poorly supported by Conway and Cormack who did not seem to get into the game, and when carrying the ball, were nearly always caught flat-footed. Neither seem to have mastered the trick of taking the pass on the run. In justice to Conway and Cormack, it must be said that some of Doc's passes were very wild. Dykes worked hard at quarter but was not effective. Tommy's proper position is on the half line where his speed can be made use of. Barnes, Bishopric and Alex. Macdonald played a hard game in the scrimmage and had it on the Calgary trio at every turn. O'Donahue was the speediest of the Edmonton wings, following up every kick, and also breaking through well. Capt. Gibson did his bit as expected. He tackled hard, held his mark, and also gained much ground by line plunges. Scrapper McDonald was also very much in evidence, his low, hard tackling being always noticeable. Starke and Rodgers had hard work to mark but were never beaten. Both could have been utilized more in carrying the ball. Parsille, while in the game, showed up as a good player, while Kennedy, though not fast, worked like a Trojan throughout. Crickmore, stunted in at full back but was replaced before he had a chance to show what he could do.

The Calgary Y.M.C.A.

Work at quarter-back was the team's particular star of the visitors. He is very fast, and passes accurately with either hand, but is inclined to hog the ball. It was very seldom that he gave Morgan or Dumphy, both fast men, an opportunity to handle the ball. Crickmore, of course, made a number of gains through the line, and Eric McLean showed up well as a kicker. On several occasions this drop kicked came perilously near the Edmonton goal. Morgan, at right half, had few opportunities to shine but when he did get nifty gave glimpses of his old-time speed. "Hon" was formerly a star at Upper Canada college, and a side kick of Tommy Stinson, Len Morrison and Gordie Southam, all of whom have since started in the Big Four. McLean was the pick of the wing line and again demonstrated that he is the best wing man in Alberta. Colville and Stag also did good work. The Calgary scrimmage did not show up as anything wonderful, Fullerton, the prize fighter's only claim to fame being that he punched McCarthy on several occasions.

Taking the two teams man for man, there is very little to choose between them, and the result might easily be read next time they meet. Though the afternoon was a perfect one for rugby, very little wind and not too sunny, the crowd was not as large as was expected, only 600 people turning out. Calgary won the toss and decided to kick south, with the right wind at their backs. When the teams lined up, the players seemed almost even in weight.

The First Quarter.

The game had hardly been going five minutes when McLean kicked on the third down, the pigskin going almost to Edmonton's dead ball line. Crickmore got the ball and made a good attempt to clear but was carried back over his own line by McMaster for a safety touch. Score 2-0.

On the kick off from 25 yard line, Work got ball and made a good try drop over goal. Wilson brought ball out, but Edmonton failed to gain to yards. McLean kicked and Crickmore was forced to range. Score 3-0. McDonald kicked to Morgan who muffed and ball went into touch at Calgary's 40 yard line. Wings blocked Crickmore's kick and Wilson plunged through Calgary players for 20 yard gain. C. McDonald replaces Kennedy. McCarthy, makes Crickmore's place at full back, while Parsille goes to left outside.

Edmonton's first to dead ball line for Edmonton's kick to touch. Score 3-1. Calgary's kick off goes to McCarthy and from resulting scrimmage, Gibson gained ten yards. Ball in centre field at end of first quarter.

Second Quarter.

Work kicks to McCarthy who clears. Cornfoot makes the return and Rodgers fell on the ball. Wilson boots ball, McLean muffs but he didn't get three yards, so Edmonton was penalized. Wilson gets ball from Dykes and passes badly to Conway who loses ball. Calgary scrammages and McLean kicks over dead ball line. Score 3-1. After the kick-off there was a pretty exchange of punts between McCarthy and McLean in which the Eskimo gained ground. Wilson tried a pass to Cormack but Dumphy intercepted ball and with a clear field got over for a touch down which was not converted. Score 9-1.

Morgan got ball on kick off and returned to Wilson who ran back the ball 15 yards before being tackled. From the scrimmage Wilson punned to McLean who tried to return but Rodgers blocked the kick and Gibson fell on the ball. Wilson and Cormack make 5 yards on an end run then Doc. kicks over the line for a range. Score 9-2.

Work kicks to Cormack who is tackled by McMaster. Wilson punned to McLean who muffs but Morgan regains ball. McLean kicks to Conway who returns to Crickmore. Again the Edmonton wings fail to give yards and lose the ball and a lot of ground. Morgan punts to McCarthy who doesn't get yards. Calgary got ball and Work punned to Conway on his five yard line. Conway was slow in returning and was brought down. Edmonton fought on their feet here, and after failing to gain on their two downs, Wilson went around left end for ten yards. Gibson got ball from scrimmage and made 20 yards, before whistling for half time. There was a three-cornered accident at this time, McLean and Kemp colliding with Parsille. The former had his nose broken while Kemp and Parsille had to have stitches put in gashes above their eyes. Kennedy took Parsille's place.

Second Half.

The second half had hardly started when a kick to McCarthy was muffed and Calgary wings got the ball for a try which was not converted. Score 14-2. McLean punned to Cormack but no yards were given. Dykes passed in Wilson who misses kick and Calgary got ball. McLean kicked on third down to McCarthy who muffs but regains ball, and kicks into touch. Again on an exchange of punts with Dumphy, McCarthy kicks, and Conway by fast following up gets ball. McCarthy kicks and Morgan muffs. Wilson follows up fast, along with O'Donahue, gets ball and crosses the Calgary line for a touch-down. McDonald fails to convert. Score 14-7.

Wilson muffs the place kick from half-way and play is in Edmonton end. On the following scrimmage Doc. made 40 yards on an end run. Three quarters time.

Last Quarter.

Wilson kicks and Starke gets possession of ball. A few moments later there was a pretty play. Cornfoot booted to McCarthy who returned to Work. The Calgary captain tried to run the punt back but McCarthy nailed him with a beautiful low tackle. Cornfoot and Dumphy circle the end for 20 yards. McLean takes ball from scrimmage and kicks towards right side of field. Morgan, who looked off-side followed up fast, got ball and crossed the Edmonton line for a touch-down which Work converted. Score 20-7.

Gibson made a short kick and O'Donahue made thirty yards before being downed. On the first down, Wilson punned over the line for the final score of the game. Score 20-8. Edmonton should have had another point a few moments later, but poor tackling allowed Work to run out a punt. Final score 20-8.

The teams lined up: Calgary (29). Full back, McLean. Half backs, Morgan, Cornfoot, Dumphy. Quarter back, Work (capt). Scrimmage, Miller, Pegler, Fullerton. Wings, Frost, McMaster, Sinclair, Kemp, Colville, Stag.

Edmonton (8). Full back, Crickmore (McCarthy). Half backs, Conway, Wilson, Cormack. Quarter back, Dykes. Scrimmage, Alex. McDonald, Bishopric, Barnes, Wings, McConchy, (Parsille), Kennedy, Starke, Gibson, Rodgers, C. E. McLean, O'Donahue.

Referee—Rev. Robt. Pearson. Umpire—L. L. Barnham. Time-keeper—Campbell Young.

Touch line judges—Hardisty, Donavan, Hamilton and Dr. Farguherson.

How Points Were Scored.

First Quarter—Edmonton—Safety touch, (2). Calgary—Range, (1). Eskimos—Range (1). Second Quarter—Calgary—Range, (1). Calgary—Touch-down, (5). Edmonton—Range (1). Third Quarter—Calgary—Touch-down, (5). Edmonton—Touch-down, (5). Fourth Quarter—Calgary—Touch-down, (5). Calgary—Converts goal, (1). Edmonton—Range, (1). Final score—Calgary 20, Edmonton 8.

Heard on Side-lines.

Jack Rodgers, the Eskimo's sturdy middle wing, injured his knee on Saturday, and will be in bed for three weeks with water on the knee. He will be a great loss.

Parsille has a badly damaged face, but will soon be out to practise again. He shopped up well.

Edmonton must have lost 200 yards on Saturday by playing offside and failure to give opposing half backs, yards. This serious fault must be remedied.

Calgary worked in neat criss-cross on Saturday. The last man to get the ball hits the line instead of circling the other end, generally gaining five or ten yards.

It is likely Dykes will be put back on the half-line and Crickmore or Roughton used at quarter. Tommy's speed is too valuable to smother on the line.

The right score should have been about 12-8. Costly errors counted for the other points.

The Edmonton management has far from lost confidence in the team. Coach Beldinger says that the Eskimos will be a greatly improved team on October 22nd.

Sinclair of Calgary said Gibson is the cleanest player he ever marked. Gibby played a splendid game throughout.

FOR THE MANN CUP

Mailands of Toronto Swamped Cornwall Internationals by 14-6

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 3.—Battling against a heavy wind which at times reached almost the proportions of a hurricane, the Mailands of Toronto and the Internationals of Cornwall played a hard game of lacrosse for the Mann cup. In appearance and physique the teams which both amateurs, seemed evenly matched, but the score told a different tale, Toronto making the net fourteen times and Cornwall only six. Eight to nothing was the showing of the home team in the first quarter. Only once did the Cornwall's seem to get on their metal this was in the third quarter, and in three minutes they scored three goals.

If the attendance doesn't pick up, Rugby will be a financial failure again.

made for them on their arrival at Edson. He gave his opinion that the men were entitled to board and pay from the time they signed the contract in Winnipeg. This has never been done by any company as yet, although the contract reads that the board shall be free and does not specify any particular time for it to begin, therefore it must do so from the time of the signing of the contract.

This decision of the Inspector's allows for the establishment of a precedent, should the case be taken up by the men (represented by Mr. Clarke), who could make a claim on the construction company for back pay and board and on being refused, could take the matter into the courts.

The adjourned trial of the men who were shipped from Winnipeg to Edson by Foley Welch and Stewart, and who left Edson for Edmonton the day after they arrived there, was proceeded with on Saturday night at the R.N.W.M.P. barracks before Inspector Worsley, Mr. Joseph Clarke acting for the men. The trial had been adjourned so that the prosecution could bring a witness from Edson.

Hugh MacKenzie, storekeeper for Foley, Welch and Stewart at Edson, was the first witness. One hundred and sixty-five men he said, arrived by the train at Edson.

"I object to that being put in as evidence," said Mr. Clarke. The objection was noted.

"They were given food and breakfast," continued the witness, "and twenty-five of them pulled out for the west to go to work, the next morning. None of the men were discharged by me and there were no complaints registered with me."

In answer to a question he said that he could not swear that he asked any of the men to go to work. Thirty miles was the distance west of Edson that they were to work.

"Was the door slammed in the faces of some of the men when they went to get breakfast," asked Mr. Clarke.

"I was not present."

Howard Rose, one of the men that the complaint was laid against, then gave his evidence:

"I had a sort of a supper when we got into Edson that night, and I slept in the bunkhouse. I did not have breakfast with the contractors, but went to a restaurant, because the food I got at supper was not fit to eat. In the morning I looked around and found my baggage."

Some of the men asked Mr. Latter, while on the train, what they were going to eat. "I am not feeding you," answered Mr. Latter.

"The cars were not locked while we were lying in the yards, but only while we were passing through Edson. At Stony Plain we got out and went up town and got something to eat. Altogether and consider we suffered great hardships throughout the journey."

Thomas Fenton in the box said that he got a ticket to get supper when he arrived at Edson. That night he slept in a box car on some level way and in the morning he went to get breakfast and the door was slammed in his face. He had gone to ask what he was to do, but no one would tell him anything.

Emery McLeod, the clerk at Logan's employment agency, was brought to the trial to see if he recognized any of the men as those that had went on from his agency, which he did not.

George Williams, an old hand at construction work, who has had considerable experience of construction camps, was the next witness. The baggage, he said, was thrown out on the grade when the train arrived and allowed to stay there all night in the rain. He had a kind of a supper and slept in the bunkhouse, which he said was not healthy, there being no ventilation. He went to a restaurant for breakfast. No one told him where to work or what to do. He did not refuse to do so, in fact he had not the chance. Several men, he said, were short of food during the journey from Winnipeg.

ALBERTA LOCAL IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Alberta Local Improvement Districts association was held in the Queen's Hotel, Calgary on Monday, September 26th. There were present: Wm. Mason, Bon Accord, president; J. A. Trimble, Medicine Hat, vice-president; James McNicol, Blackfalds, secretary; H. Greenfield, Edson; Joseph Rye, Dargatz; Wm. Lang, Strathcona; E. Hillier, Twin Butte; and F. L. Moorhouse, Calgary. It was decided to hold the annual convention of representatives from every Local Improvement district in the province at Red Deer, on November 22nd and 23rd. A number of prominent gentlemen interested in the material development of the province will be invited to be present as clever addresses on topics of vital interest to rural municipalities. The object of the association is to work in harmony with the government for the further development of the rural portions of the province.

TO THE AUDIENCE

HAROLD NELSON AT EMPIRE.

A real treat is in store for the theatregoers of Edmonton this week when Harold Nelson, Canada's favorite actor will appear at the Empire theatre for a limited engagement. Mr. Nelson has been associated with the classic drama for so many years that it will be a pleasant surprise to his many friends and admirers to see him in the characters he is now representing. Mr. Nelson is now interpreting Canadian drama only. He is scoring this season as Sir Gilbert Parker's picturesque Western drama "Pierre of the Plains" and Eugene Walter's beautiful drama of Canadian life "The Wolf," and has received the highest praise from both press and public for his interpretations and productions of the two plays. "Pierre of the Plains" deals with Western Canadian life in the days of the early settlers and contains many stirring incidents. The mounted police play a prominent part in the production. "Pierre" is a half-breed who makes his living by his wits and is despised by all who know him, thinking him to be a worthless gambler. "Pierre" lives through it all and in the end proves himself to be worthy of respect.

"Pierre of the Plains" will be given on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings and at a special matinee on Wednesday afternoon, and "The Wolf" will be presented on Thursday evening.

At the Lyceum.

The Lyceum theatre for the past few weeks has been playing to excellent business and will continue the same as long as Sherman Musical Comedy company hold the boards at that place. They will offer for the first three nights of this week a condensed musical comedy entitled "A Night Off." It would be difficult to tell just where the title fits the piece or whether it fits the piece at all. But that is neither here nor there. The object of this company is to make one laugh and keep that object in view, their efforts will be decidedly successful. It is simply one long, continuous laugh from beginning to end with Thomas J. Hecan as the laugh producer. There is not a fine or bit of business that what means something to laugh as it is fine entertainment, clean and rapid. The chorus will help out in

MELBA'S TRIUMPH AT TORONTO

Criticism of Mr. E. R. Parkhurst for the Toronto Globe.

To Mme. Melba, the Australian prima donna, belongs the triumph of attracting last night the record audience in the history of Massey Hall. Not only was the regular auditorium completely sold out, but two hundred and thirty seats placed on the chorus platform were occupied, and about one thousand people were turned away from the doors unable to obtain admission. The great Patti was never greeted in this city by so immense an audience. Mme. Melba, whose former appearance here dates six years ago, was received with enthusiastic acclamation on her coming forward to sing her first number. This was the "Mad Scene" from "Lucia." In this excerpt her old sheer transparent beauty of voice, crystalline in its purity, and her extraordinary command of floral vocalization were conspicuous. The flute obbligato was played by Mr. John Lemmon, an artist of finished technique, and with a command of a great variety of tone, but in the passages in which there was rivalry between the flute and the voice Mme. Melba equalled the technical exactness of the instrument while, of course, surpassing it in appealing quality of tone. Mme. Melba's second solo number was the "Jewel Song" from "Faust," which was a delightful revelation of brilliant execution and also of exquisite, scintillating tone, and the rendering of which was not wanting in spiritfulness of mood and expression. Her final programme number was "Tost's popular 'Good-bye,' which, despite the sneers levelled at it by erudite musicians, is one of the most effective of concert numbers which sung by such an artist as Mme. Melba, to the special beauty of whose voice it is particularly sympathetic. Mme. Melba was, as may be supposed, encored after each number. Her response to the Rye," which she sang with a felicity of accent and archness and a silvery quality of voice throughout that removed it altogether from the conventional rendering. One cannot say that Mme. Melba's voice is more sensuously delightful or more even in its pure quality than it was some eight years ago when she first sang here, but if there is a difference it is probably in the direction that she sings with more warmth and abandon. Her associates, Mlle. Sassoli, harpist; Mr. John Lemmon, flautist; Mr. Albert Quenel, tenor, and Mr. Maurice Lafarge, accompanist, made up a very excellent concert company. Mlle. Sassoli, Mr. John Lemmon and Mr. Lafarge opened the program with the first movement of Mozart's concerto for flute, harp and piano, which if native in style to modern ears has the saving graces of clearness, symmetry of form and melodic charm in the second part of the program. Mr. John Lemmon gave a solo, "By the Brook," which once more illustrated his clean-cut technique and his astonishing control of tone colors. Mr. Albert Quenel, the tenor, has a sweet and yet vibrant voice, with a ringing penetrative force in the upper register that is very effective. His phrasing in the aria by Ponchielli from "La Gioconda" and in the duet with Mme. Melba, "Parigi O Caro" from "Traviata," was exceedingly smooth and finished. Mlle. Sassoli, the harpist, in her solos treated the audience to some effects that were quite novel and puzzled them as to the manner in which they were accomplished. She is as clever an executant on the instrument as one has heard in this city.

PLAYER HAS DISAPPEARED

Leland Crocker, Lately With Moose Jaw, is Thought to Have Been Murdered

Wallace, Idaho, Oct. 3.—After searching high and low among the hills surrounding Wardner and in lodgings, houses and mines of the town, former team-mates of Leland Crocker, a well-known Twilight league baseball player, today found no trace of the lad, and word sent to his mother at Walls Wells has aroused no response.

Crocker was to have appeared on the Wardner diamond this afternoon with the Wardner Red Men against the team of the Wallace lodge. Wardner won the game, 4 to 0.

Money in his purse in his room has been untouched, his clothing has apparently been undisturbed for a week, and friends fear that the lad has met foul play. The search will continue. County authorities have been notified.

Well Known Here.

Leland Crocker, the ball player mentioned in the above despatch was well and favorably known in Edmonton. He was a star out-fielder of the Moose Jaw club and in picking all-star teams, Crocker's name was generally included. He was a gentleman both on and off the diamond and local baseball fans hope that he turns up safely.

ROYALS BEAT THE NATIONALS

In Exhibition Game at Vancouver
—Score Was 6-2, Lalonde is Still in Hospital

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 3.—New Westminster and the National Lacrosse teams played here Saturday an exhibition game which was superior in many respects to the standard shown in either of the Minto Cup games.

Although Lalonde is not yet able to get into the game, the Nationals played the champions to a standstill to the end of the third quarter, giving the first illustration since coming to the coast as to how they came to win the Eastern championship. In both speed and combination work they showed themselves up till the last quarter, equal to the champions, Westminster surpassing them only in passing. At the end of the 3rd quarter each had scored two goals but then came the Champions Royal with some of their famous rushes and piled four more while they kept the Nationals from scoring another goal.

In the third and fourth quarter there was some rough work. Jimmy Gifford mixing it up with La Violette and Hugh Gifford and Lachapelle held fast converse. All were given twenty minutes penalty. Jimmy Gifford being ruled out for the rest of the game for insulting the referee.

Score by quarters:
New Westminster—0, 1, 1, 4, 6.
Nationals—1, 1, 0, 0, 2.
Wark, McLean and McMaster could be used very nicely on the Edmonton team.

Ca'gany left for home on the midnight yesterday.

Men's Suit and Overcoat Advice

1. You cannot fail to recognise the necessity of early ordering.
2. You mustn't pick a style from another, but look over the fashion books of a reliable man's tailor, hence you obtain a style befitting to your own person.
3. Selection of materials is difficult, unless the tailor's word can be relied upon.
4. Pick out a few tailors, look over their lines, their styles, and then place your order.

Now we are open for competition. We recognise the good it does all commercial enterprises, and it assists the men and young men in obtaining the highest efficiency in men's tailoring. Reliability, workmanship, exclusive patterns, styles of the best; we can offer the most reasonable prices and we solicit your inspection any time and we will prove our ability to merit your order.

been caught a terrible surprise would give the world to help you if I could."

He left her, and she sat dully trying to think. The regular jar of the trucks had set itself to a rhythm—no hope, no hope, no hope! She knew now that there was none. When the bishop returned she did not turn her head. He sat beside her awhile, and she was aware again of his voice, speaking soothingly. At moments thereafter he was there, at others she knew that she was alone, but was unconscious of the flight of time. She knew only that the day was fading. On the chilly wintry landscape she saw only a crowded room, a jury box, a judge's bench and Hugh before it, listening to the sentence that would take him from her forever. The bright sunlight was mercilessly, sanely cruel and God a snoring monster turning a crank.

Into her conscious view grew distant snowy ranges, hills unrolling at their feet, a straggling town, a staring white courthouse and a grim low building beside it. She rose stumblingly, the train quivering to the brakes, as the bishop entered.

"This is Smoky Mountain," she said with a smile. "That is the building where he is being tried. I am going there now."

The bishop opened the door and gave her his hand to the platform. The train was to stop but ten minutes. He stood a moment watching her as she crossed to the street; then, with the sadness deep in his heart, entered the station to send a telegram.

Hugh's haggard face peered after them through a rift in a window curtain. What could she have suspected? Not the truth! And only that could betray him. Presently the bishop would return, the train would start again, and this spot of terror would be behind him. What had he to do with Harry Sanderson?

He brought himself suddenly to the door. If some one should come in upon him! With a qualm of fear he stood up, staggered to it and turned the key in the lock. There was not the wanted buzz about the station. The place was silent save for the throb of the hotel engine, and the shadow of the train on the frosty platform quivered like a criminal. A block away he saw the courthouse. Knots of people were standing about its door waiting for what? A fit of trembling seized him.

All his years Hugh had been a moral coward. Life to him had been sweet for the grosser, material pleasures it held. He had cared for nobody, had held nothing sacred. He had now only to keep silence, let Harry Sanderson pay the penalty, and he need dread no more. Hugh Stiles, to the persuasion of the law, would be dead. As soon as might be he could disappear, as the rest of St. James had disappeared before. He might change his name and live at ease in some quarter of the world, his alarm had forever.

But a worse thing would haunt him to scare his sleep—he would be doubly blood guilty! In the awful moment while he clung to the iron bars of the collapsing rose window, with the flames clutching at him, Hugh had looked into hell and shivered before the judgment. "The wages of sin is death." In that fiery ordeal the cheapness and swag, the ostentation and self esteem, had burned away, and his soul had stood naked as a winter wood. Dying had not then been the austere terror. What came after? That had appalled him. Yet Harry Sanderson was not afraid of the hereafter. He chose death calmly, knowing that he, Hugh, was unfit to die.

Suppose he told the truth now and saved Harry. He had never done a brave deed for the sake of truth or righteousness or for the love of any human being, but he could do one now. For the one red counter that had been a symbol of a day of evil living he could render a deed that would make requital for those unpaid days. He would not have played the coward's part. It would repair the wrong he had done Jesus! He would have made expiation. Forgiveness and pity, not reproaches and shame, would follow him, and it would balance perhaps the one dreadful count that stood against him. He thought of the scaffold and shivered, yet there was a more terrible thought: It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God!

He made his way again to the door and unlocked it. It was only to cross that space, to speak, and then the grim brick building and the penalty. With a hoarse cry he slammed the door and frantically locked it. The edge of the searching pain was upon him again. He stumbled back to the couch and fell across it face down, dragging the cushions in frantic haste over his head to shut out the sick throbbing of the steam that seemed shuddering at the fate his cowardly soul dared not face.

The groans outside the courthouse made way desperately for Jessica, but she was unconscious of it. Some one asked a question on the steps, and she heard the answer, "The state has just finished, and the judge is charging."

The narrow hall was filled, and, though all who saw gave her instant place, the space beyond the inner door was crowded beyond the possibility of passage. She could see the judge's bench, with its sedate, gray bearded figure, the jury box at the left, the moving, restless faces about it, set like a living mosaic.

She became aware suddenly that the figure at the high bench was speaking, had been speaking all along:

"With the prisoner's later career in Smoky Mountain they had nothing to do nor had the law. The question I asked—the only question I asked—was, 'Did he kill Moreau?' They might be loath to believe the same man capable of such criminality as the court-rooms sitting of a child from death, for example, and the shooting down of a fellow mortal in cold blood—but it had been truly said that such contrasts were not impossible—nay, were even matters of common observation. Prejudice and bias aside, and prejudice and lying aside, they constituted a tribunal of justice. This the state had a right to demand, and this they, the jury, had made solemn oath to give."

The words had no meaning for her ears. "What did he say?" she whispered to herself pitifully. She caught but a glimpse of the prisoner as the sheriff touched his arm and led the way quickly to the door through which he had been brought.

It opened and closed upon them, and the tension of the packed room broke all at once in a great respiration of relief and a buzz of conversation.

A voice spoke beside her. It was Dr. Brent. "Come with me," he said. "Folger asked me to watch for you. We can wait in the judge's room."

Chapter 31
MEANWHILE in the narrow cell Harry was alone with his bitterness. His judicial sense, keenly alive, from the very first had appreciated the woeful weakness, evidently speaking, of his position. He had no illusions on this score. A little while—after such deliberation as was decent and seemly—and he would be a condemned man, waiting in the shadow of the hempen noose. In such localities justice was swift. There would be scant time between verdict and penalty—no remorse, doubtless, for the problem to solve itself. For the only solution possible was Hugh's dying in the hospital at Aniston. So long as the other lived he must play out the role.

And if Hugh did die, but died too late? What a satire on truth and justice! The same error which put the rope about his own neck would fold the real Hugh in the odor of sanctity. He would lie in the little jail yard in a father's grave, and Harry in the cemetery on the hill beneath a marble monument erected by St. James' parish to the Rev. Henry Sanderson. In the dock or in the cell, with the death watch sitting at its door, it was all one. He had elected the path, and it led to the bleak edge of life, to the barren abyss of shame, he must tread it. He was powerless to help himself still. He had given over his life into the keeping of a power in which his better manhood had trusted. If it exacted the final tribute for those ribald years of Satan Sanderson the price would be paid.

A step came in the corridor. A voice spoke his name. The summons had come. Before the opening of the door the hum of voices in the courtroom sank to stillness itself. The jury had taken their places. Their looks were sober and dovetailed. The judge was in his seat, his hand combing his beard. Harry faced him calmly. The door of a side room was pushed open, and a girl's white face looked in, but he did not see.

Tremendous Clearing Sale of

MEN'S SUITS

We have about a thousand suits in stock that we are anxious to turn into money right away. Of course we can sell these goods in the regular way and make our regular profit, but this is just what we don't propose to do. This time we want the money at once and the easiest way to get it is to put a price on these suits that will make them go with a rush and these prices will certainly do the trick.

200	Men's Suits, in the New Striped Tweeds, Worsteds, etc., hand tailored, nice range of patterns, all sizes, worth up to $25, for	$15.00
400	Men's Suits, well made and well trimmed, sizes 36 to 42, regular $20, for	$12.50

THE HUNTING SEASON

Whether you go after big game far away in a sportsman's paradise, or whether it is small game shooting close in to home, we offer you the privilege of dropping in to look over our well assorted stock of Guns and Ammunition such as:

Standard Rifles

The new Standard Automatic make of Rifles has revolutionized the rifle manufacturing. The gas operating automatically loads instantaneously—will shoot 5 and 6 shots a second—with lightning-like velocity—makes almost no recoil.

Winchester Rifles

Model 1910, Self Loading Rifle, is a fine shot, hammerless, take-down of .401 calibre. It shoots a heavier bullet and hits a harder blow than any other recoil operated rifle made. Also such familiar Winchester Repeating Rifles as 30 U.S. 30-39, 25, 35, 44-30.

Savage Rifles

Model 303 in solid frames, take-down and featherweight. Then there are accessories such as Hunting Clothing, Gun Cases, Hunting Knives, and the little things that go to make a complete Hunters Outfit.

About Town

By the upsetting of an oil lamp chow was standing on the table of a shack at the corner of Short street and Namayo Avenue, a fire was started last night at 8:15. An alarm was rung in to No. 3 station and the chemical engine responded and extinguished the flames before any damage was done.

ALD ARMSTRONG IS

emanated from," continued Ald. Armstrong, "and it is an act of one who is trying to knife men in the back, without giving his name. It shows that the man himself knows that it is not true. If it was true he would not be afraid to give his name."

"A man came into my store Saturday afternoon and asked me if I had seen The Capital. I replied that I had. He then asked me if I knew who was responsible for the story. I told him I was not sure. He then said that he was prepared to swear it was the work of a certain alderman."

"If any alderman has a grudge, or a criticism to make the proper place for him to make it is in the council chamber and not to the press."

"Some people say that I am working for the interests of Namayo avenue alone. Well, I think my record will disprove that. Besides, when I was elected I obtained a better share of confidence from the west end than aldermen living out there received in the east. I am working for the interests of the city as a whole."

"As far as the delay in the paving of Namayo avenue is concerned, I told some ratepayers when they complained some months ago that it could not be helped and it would be necessary to be patient for the reason that I thought the council were moving a little too swiftly, which made one or two of them angry."

ness will be properly taken care of, but it can't possibly be properly supported if those in charge have to struggle against petty agitation."

It seems that the consensus of opinion in the council about Commissioner Bouillon is in favor of him getting a better chance to show his ability. At any rate none of the aldermen have come out openly in opposition.

Mayor Lee is one who is a strong believer in Mr. Bouillon's worth. "The city's business is too large and too far reaching to judge the capabilities of the man in charge by only a five month's trial. It takes time, Mr. Bouillon has not shown any signs of failure in the management of the city's business. He is making good."

The mayor admitted there had been delay in the carrying out of public works, but he stated that there were several causes.

The delay in the placing of our adventures owing to the King's death was one of the causes," said the mayor. "We never sign up contracts for work until they are placed and we know where the money is coming from, as to do so would be bad business principles. Again the city engineer was absent for about six weeks at the beginning of the year, while I was away myself for a short time. The delay therefore could not be helped and was caused by circumstances beyond our control."

"Commissioner Bouillon is making good," were his concluding words. Ald. Hyndman thinks all this petty agitation is sheer nonsense.

When you trace them to their source," he said to The Capital, you will find that it is only someone who has a small grievance, and through a few sympathizers endeavors to make capital out of it. I certainly think that Commissioner Bouillon should be given a much better chance. Why, I don't think he has done anything to cause any agitation whatever, and unless he does anything ridiculous or foolish, we would be the laughing stock of the whole country to displace him with his services. If Commissioner Bouillon proves to be the man for the position, and I think he will, then salary is a mere bagatelle."

"Things seem to be getting hot," was the parting comment. When Commissioner Bouillon referred to his being the principal in a desperate political struggle in an American city, he was referring to Seattle. Mr. Bouillon while in that city held a position known as superintendent of public utilities. In the case in question he was fighting a gas corporation which had secured one of the most far reaching and absurd franchises imaginable. The press refused to assist Mr. Bouillon, and he considers them as having been subsidized by the gas corporation, so he was forced to fight the corporation through the various municipal leagues of the city. At a time when he was getting the better of the corporation a councilman entered the council chamber and introduced a measure undoing all he did, thus insuring the retention by the gas corporation of all the privileges that Mr. Bouillon was endeavoring to take away from them. The motion passed and you can't convince Mr. Bouillon that the whole council was not in the pay of the franchise holders.

MELBA EXTRA

[C.P.R. Telegram] Winnipeg, Sept. 28th. '10

To Geo. H. Suckling, Edmonton.

NEVER has such enthusiasm been witnessed in Winnipeg as at the Walker Theatre tonight when Melba entranced an audience which filled every corner in the immense house. It would be difficult to say where people were not seated. Four hundred seats were placed on the stage; the orchestra space was also filled, while all the available standing room was taken and over two thousand people were turned away.
